The aim of the programme is to enable graduates to be caring, competent and accountable nurses who apply knowledge and draw on a high standard of, skilled, safe care in a variety of settings (Nursing and Midwifery Council 2010). Each Nursing course is a degree course combined with preparation for professional registration with the Nursing and Midwifery Council (NMC).

The BSc (Hons) programmes are designed to develop students into independent learners through a programme of study which utilises both generic and field-specific themes. These themes run through the three years and allow you to develop the knowledge and skills required across all fields of Nursing through the themes and also participate with other students in the study of generic themes to further develop your knowledge and skill base.

The major aims of the degree programmes are to develop nurses who are caring, skilled, reflective, knowledgeable, analytical and accountable. The programme will enable you to study your own field of Nursing through the themes and also participate with other students in the study of generic themes to further develop your knowledge and skill base.
