The Clock House will have low traffic and usage for the upcoming semester. The structure of the building does not lend itself to a one-way system along the corridors. The Main Entrance is a glass panelled door with automatic opening and so good visibility is provided to ensure that users do not need to cross over on entering or exiting. Where each corridor takes a turn there are 'fall back' areas to allow users to step back and allow other users to pass by. Due to the reduced staffing levels accessing the building and short length corridors, stop and give way protocol will be in place.

The Fire Exit doors are large, heavy and difficult to use (original construction). It would not be easy to use these as an alternative route.

We have decided to isolate most of the staff offices on the upper floor and now not allow general access to this area. This can be implemented by signage at the top of the stairs on Stairwell A and Stairwell B. The result would be that students could access the practice rooms on one side of Stairwell A and also the Seminar Room (if it is to be used) on the other side of Stairwell B. See Risk Assessment for further detail.

All Staff offices are single use only. Studio areas will be limited to single users (plus 1 staff member for instructional purposes in studios). Details on the operation of the practice rooms is given the risk assessment.

Sanitiser Stations have been recommended at these locations
