Leadership Development for SAS Doctors

Bespoke In-House Programmes

For up to 40 SAS Doctors

The Keele Clinical Leadership Academy, over many years, has supported hundreds of SAS doctors to develop their personal leadership skills so that they can contribute effectively to improving patient services in their organisations.

We are able to collaboratively design and deliver a range of leadership development activities including bespoke courses and masterclasses, action learning sets, webinars and personal coaching. Tailored to the specific needs of your organisation.

A very important diagnostic part of the process of engagement is gaining an understanding of your situation and requirements. Our programmes are very much based on a partnership between the Academy and yourselves.

Throughout the programme there is regular discussion and feedback between the two parties.

If you would like us to support you in creating appropriate development opportunities for your SAS doctors please contact us for more information.
