

History

COURSE OVERVIEW

At Keele, we seek to create independent historical researchers, capable of developing their own research questions through the analysis of archival evidence, understanding the uses and abuses of history, and challenging comfortable narratives of how we got to where we are today. Our students learn how to approach the past from new perspectives, how to analyse through historical context, and to present convincing, well-evidenced argument.

WHAT WE CAN OFFER ON CAMPUS

- Keele Library and Archives tour: including perhaps the earliest published book for children!
- Workshops with Staffordshire archives: Either at Keele, or in Hanley – small group workshops with real archival materials
- Training for History Teachers: Summer School in Latin and Palaeography – see online
- Annual Teachers and Advisors Conference.
- The Real Keele residential event for students in Year 10, 11 and 12 (must be under the age of 18).
- Combine a 'Taster session' (right) with a Campus tour.

WE CAN VISIT YOU

'Taster sessions': Experience a first year lecture or workshop related to your curriculum:

- Victorian Britain
- British Civil War
- Imperialism and decolonisation
- US Civil War
- US civil rights
- Nineteenth and Twentieth Century Germany
- African History
- Nations and Nationalism
- Oscar Wilde's London
- Or we can tailor a session to suit yours and your student's needs!

To arrange a visit, or for more information contact:

01782 734009 | E: outreach@keele.ac.uk

