

DEPOSITING ON ACCEPTANCE PUBLICATIONS

Once you know the acceptance date for your publication then you need to follow these steps in order to make the publication available via open access and compliant with REF requirements:

- Log into the publications database
- Click on 'Accepted for publication? Deposit your work!'
- Select the relevant publication type—conference or journal article
- Enter the 'essential information' for publication (don't worry about the additional information—we can sort that out for you!)
- If you have your manuscript—choose file and upload—we will then approve this to appear in the repository
- If you don't have your manuscript—deposit the publication without file.
Remember though we will still need to deposit the manuscript within 3 months of acceptance. Either email it to us and we can upload it, or you can add it via the publication details in the publications database.
