

A photograph of a city street scene. In the background, there is a bright red wall. In front of the wall, there are several trees with dark foliage. A white zebra crossing is visible in the foreground, with white stripes on a reddish-pink pavement. A white rectangular box containing text is overlaid on the upper part of the image.

A walk in the city: an ethnographic exploration

By Dr Amani Hassani

13 Oct 2020, at 10.30 - 12.00

Join via Teams -<https://tinyurl.com/y5zg7apn>

This workshop will introduce attendees to the use of walking as an ethnographic method. It builds on research about young Muslims' urban lives in Copenhagen (Denmark) and Montreal (Canada). During the workshop, we will explore how walking with interlocutors allows for alternative ways of exploring temporality, spatiality and subjectivity through spatial narratives.

For questions, contact Dr Aneta Hayes- a.m.hayes@keele.ac.uk