ACCESS TO THESIS

I understand that the thesis (hereafter referred to as the "Work"), will be deposited in the University's Research Repository and will be accessible to individuals and institutions, including automated agents, via the internet, in the way described below. An electronic copy of the Work may also be included in the Electronic Theses Online Service (EThOS).

I agree that Keele's Research Repository administrators or their agents may, without changing content, translate the Work to any medium or format for the purpose of future preservation and accessibility.

I agree that the hard copy of the Work can be made available for consultation in the University Library, or in another library via inter-library loans.

I agree that the Work may be copied in whole or part for individuals for non-commercial research, private study, criticism, review and news reporting, illustration for teaching, and/or other educational purposes in electronic or print form. For any other use, permission must be obtained from the author and no quotation may be published without proper acknowledgement.

I understand that once the Work is deposited, a citation of the Work will always remain visible. Removal of the Work from the Research Repository can be made after discussion with the Repository administrators.

I understand that the rights granted to Keele University and users of the Work through this agreement are entirely non-exclusive and royalty-free. I retain all rights in the Work in its present version or future versions.

INCLUSION OF THIRD PARTY COPYRIGHT MATERIAL

Please tick one box to indicate which applies. Refer to the online PGR Guidance for more information.

I am depositing an electronic version of my thesis that is the same in all respects as the print copy. There are no copyright reasons for restricting access.

I am depositing an electronic version of my thesis that is the same in all respects as the print copy. For copyright reasons, the e-version cannot be made available.

I am depositing an edited electronic version of my thesis that is same in all respects as the print copy, apart from the removal of third party copyright material where permission for its inclusion has not been granted. This edited version can be made available.
