

Technician Commitment

It's the Keele difference.

Welcome

- Innovation West Midlands
- Executive Support
- Technician Commitment Working Group

Technicians make it happen

Why the Technician Commitment?

It's the Keele difference.

Technician Commitment - Progress

- Keele University signed the commitment in May 2017
- Keele Working Group established
- Initial event in September 2017 as part of the people strategy
- Supported by formal Technician Commitment event in London
- Proposals developed by the working group

Our previous event:

- Asked you to consider in order to achieve the commitments aspirations what we would have to Lose, Add, Change or Keep.
- Your top 4:
 - Career Development
 - Profile raising
 - Technical Hub/Network
 - Voice

Our proposal:

- Mark to act at UEC Representative for Technicians
- Establish a Technician Hub/Network
- Annual Technician Conference
- Review the formal training offer
- New programme for current and aspiring technical leaders
- Dedicated web space

Proposal Development Activity

In your groups, review each of the proposals which have been linked to the Technician Commitment and consider the following:

What would you like to see as part of each proposal?

What should be the next steps to make it happen?

Do you have any concerns or can you see any barriers to the proposals?

Next Steps....

- Would you like to be involved in the Technical Services network?

Thank you